BetMGM
Regulatory Analysis & Implementation
New York, NY

Dear Selection Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Compliance Analyst position on BetMGM's Regulatory Analysis and Implementation team. Online gaming is one of the most actively regulated industries in the country, with each state writing its own rules, and I am drawn to a role whose purpose is to turn new laws and regulations into clear plans the business can actually carry out. Helping a company grow responsibly across many jurisdictions, while keeping regulators' trust, is the kind of compliance work I find genuinely engaging.

My experience in regulated environments started at Georgetown's student-run credit union. Working at a fully operational financial institution showed me that controls only work when the people following them understand why they exist, and that the best time to catch a problem is before it reaches a customer. I learned to follow procedures exactly, document what I did, and raise concerns early, habits that translate directly to implementing new regulatory requirements across teams. I also saw how much a clear, well-explained procedure reduces mistakes compared with one that is simply handed down.

At Holland & Knight, I analyze new and proposed legislation and regulations and break them into their component requirements, deadlines, and open questions for attorneys and clients. Researching legislation across many state legislatures for the National Endowment for Financial Education taught me how differently states approach the same issue, and how important it is to track each jurisdiction's specific language rather than assume uniformity. I manage owners, timelines, and follow-ups across several attorneys at once, and I enjoy building simple trackers and logs so that decisions and evidence are easy to find later. I use AI tools to help map requirements and draft summaries, always validating the output against the primary source.

I would be excited to help BetMGM's compliance team analyze regulatory changes, build implementation workplans, coordinate comments on proposed rules, and keep documentation audit-ready. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how I could contribute to your team.

Sincerely,
Adeline Bean
