Ramp
Legal Team
New York, NY

Dear Selection Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Legal & Privacy Operations Associate position at Ramp. Ramp sits inside the transaction flow of thousands of businesses, which means its legal team has to move at the speed of the product while protecting the trust customers place in it with their financial data. I am drawn to a role whose purpose is to give that team leverage: keeping requests moving, keeping records and inventories accurate, and using automation and AI workflows so that privacy and governance work scales with the company instead of slowing it down.

At Holland & Knight, I have learned how a legal team actually runs day to day. Attorneys and policy advisors send me requests with different deadlines and levels of urgency, and I have found that the work goes well only when each request has a clear owner, a clear status, and a follow-up date. I keep shared trackers current, file work in iManage so a colleague can pick up any matter quickly, and flag what is coming due before anyone has to ask. Researching federal and state developments in technology, privacy, and financial services has also given me a working familiarity with how rules like the CCPA and GDPR shape what companies must document and disclose.

I also care about the operational side of privacy because I have seen it from the customer's perspective. At Georgetown's student-run credit union, I work inside a real financial institution where member information is sensitive and written procedures exist for good reasons; following them consistently, and escalating anything unusual with clear context, is what makes the institution trustworthy. In my own work I use AI tools such as Claude and ChatGPT to speed up research and drafting, and I have learned to treat them as a first draft that must be checked against the source. I am eager to learn how to build those tools into dependable workflows, and as co-founder and treasurer of Georgetown's Undergraduate Law Journal and Women in Law Club, I have already had to design simple systems that keep a volunteer team organized and accountable.

I would be excited to help Ramp's legal team administer its systems, maintain privacy inventories and evidence, support data subject requests and policy refreshes, and find new ways to automate routine work. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how I could contribute to your team.

Sincerely,
Adeline Bean
