Anduril Industries
Anduril Intelligence Systems, Division Operations
Reston, Virginia

Dear Selection Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the 2027 Early Career Division Operations position with Anduril Intelligence Systems. As a Georgetown University senior with experience in policy research, regulatory analysis, and strategic communications, I want to build a career at the intersection of national security and execution. I am drawn to AIS's work shaping intelligence community concepts of operation and delivering critically needed capability, and to an operations role that solves ambiguous problems across the business to help a new business unit scale.

As a Public Policy and Regulation Intern at Holland & Knight LLP, I have written more than 50 research memos on legislative and regulatory developments across financial services, emerging technology, national security, and critical supply chains, and I brief practice group leaders and former Members of Congress each week, translating large volumes of research into concise recommendations for senior audiences. The role requires me to get up to speed quickly on unfamiliar issues, weigh competing considerations, and identify what matters most for decision-makers. Earlier, as a Legislative Intern for Representative Diana DeGette, I researched appropriations and emerging technology policy and managed constituent casework, which taught me to keep many open threads moving at once.

My internships have also been hands-on. At the National Endowment for Financial Education, I helped increase partner retention by 50 percent and new outreach by 200 percent. At the International Rescue Committee, I coordinated housing, healthcare, identification, and benefits for refugee families, work that depended on organization, follow-through, and steadiness under pressure. As co-founder, Executive Editor, and Treasurer of Georgetown's Women in Law Club and Undergraduate Law Journal, I built new organizations from the ground up, which is the kind of stand-up work this role describes. I would welcome the responsibility that comes with the security clearance process.

I would be excited to bring a low-ego, high-ownership approach to AIS's mission. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how I could contribute to Anduril Intelligence Systems.

Sincerely,
Adeline Bean
