Capital One
Ethics Office
McLean, VA

Dear Selection Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Compliance Advisory Specialist II position in Capital One's Ethics Office. A strong ethics program is what allows associates to raise concerns with confidence and make good decisions when a situation is not black and white. I am drawn to a role that sits at the center of that work, handling Ethics Line matters, conflicts of interest, and gifts and entertainment questions, and I would be glad to start my career at a company that treats integrity as part of how it does business.

At Holland & Knight, I research legal and regulatory developments in financial services and government ethics and lobbying rules, and I write memos that explain what applies, to whom, and where judgment is required. I have learned to read a policy closely, apply it to a specific set of facts, and flag the questions that need a senior reviewer instead of guessing. Working in a law firm has also made confidentiality second nature. I handle sensitive client information carefully, and I keep organized trackers for several attorneys so that each matter is documented, prioritized by urgency, and never left without an owner.

I have also worked inside institutions with strict conduct rules. In Representative DeGette's office, I supported staff who operated under House ethics, gift, and disclosure requirements, and I handled constituent matters with discretion while documenting each case through resolution. At Georgetown's student-run credit union, I follow written policies and compliance controls every day and escalate exceptions with clear notes. These experiences taught me that most people want to do the right thing and simply need a clear, timely answer. I enjoy being the person who provides that answer, and I am always looking for ways to make intake, tracking, and reporting more efficient with better tools.

I would be excited to triage Ethics Line matters, analyze conflicts of interest, review gifts and entertainment requests, track program metrics, and help improve the Ethics Office's workflows and technology. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how I could contribute to your team.

Sincerely,
Adeline Bean
