CHAOS Industries
Legal Team
Washington, D.C.

Dear Selection Committee,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Legal Operations Coordinator position with CHAOS Industries in Washington, D.C. I am drawn to CHAOS's mission of giving warfighters and border protection teams the advantage they need, and to the chance to join a legal team that is still building its processes. I hope to pursue a career in law, and I would love to start it by learning how a fast-growing defense technology company's legal function works from the inside.

My interest in defense and national security grew out of my work at Holland & Knight, where I support the co-leads of the firm's National Security & Defense industry sector group. Working in a law firm has shown me that good legal work depends on good operations: knowing where every request stands, getting it to the right person, and making sure nothing stalls before a deadline. I enjoy that kind of structure. I keep careful trackers, file work product under consistent conventions, and send updates before anyone has to ask.

I have practiced the same habits in other settings. In Representative DeGette's office, I managed casework intake, logging and routing constituent requests and following up with federal agencies until each was resolved. As co-founder and treasurer of Georgetown's Women in Law Club and Undergraduate Law Journal, I built our budgets, calendars, and record-keeping from scratch, and at Georgetown's student-run credit union I work within strict operational controls. I learn new systems quickly, I know when to escalate, and I handle confidential information with care.

I would be proud to serve as the Legal team's air traffic control and to help build the tools and workflows that let CHAOS's attorneys move quickly. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how I could contribute to your team.

Sincerely,
Adeline Bean
